1. A new oath or declaration is required because it is not signed and dated by the applicant. The wording of an oath or declaration cannot be amended. If the wording is not correct or if all of the required affirmations have not been made or if it has not been properly subscribed to, a new oath or declaration is required. The new oath or declaration must properly identify the application of which it is to form a part, preferably by application number and filing date in the body of the oath or declaration. See MPEP § 602.01 and 602.02.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 3-5 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The Specification, as originally filed, does not provide support for "each embossed portion including a plurality of raised surfaces" as recited in claim 3, lines 2 to 3. The Specification on page 2 and the Figures only disclose the sheet as being embossed, not each embossment having a plurality of raised portions as recited. The Specification also does not provide for support for the "first means" and "second means" for engaging the first surface of the pizza. Again, the brief Specification and Figures only describe an embossed plastic sheet. This rejection is being made since by the recitation of a first and second means the examiner deems this to mean that they are two different means. (i.e. different structural features).

4. The examiner notes that it appears claim 4 is intended to depend from claim 3 since it recites "The retaining sheet of claim ..." with no number there after and will be treated as so on its merits. The examiner also notes the inconsistency in claim 3, line 1 as to the sheet being recited as "flat" when it contains embossed portions which would seem to structurally be non-planar (i.e. not flat). Clarification is kindly requested.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Liu or Niermeijer.

Art Unit: 1772

Both Liu and Niermeijer disclose a rectangular plastic sheet that contain embossments that have what one can consider a plurality of raised portions thereon (for claims 3 and 4). Refer to Figures 1 and 2 in Niermeijer which shows embossments 2 and 3 that have ribs 5 thereon that can be considered the raised portions (for claim 3 and 4). The projections 3 and 7, of different size, can also be consider the first and second means of claim 5. Refer to Figures 1-3 in Liu where the embossment Y has raised portions X there around the top (for claims 3 and 4). The raised portion can be considered the second means of claim 5 while the embossment Y can be considered the first means therein.

7. Applicant's arguments filed July 2, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive because of the reason set forth below.

8. In response to applicant's argument that the claimed invention is directed to a product that deals with food products like pizza, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

9. In response to applicant's arguments, the recitation of "A pizza dough retaining sheet" in claim 3 has not been given patentable weight because the recitation occurs in the preamble. A preamble is generally not accorded any patentable weight where it merely recites the purpose of a process or the intended use of a structure, and where the body of the claim does not depend on the preamble for completeness but, instead, the process steps or structural limitations are able to stand alone. See In re Hirao, 535 F.2d 67, 190 USPQ 15 (CCPA 1976) and Kropa v. Robie, 187 F.2d 150, 152, 88 USPQ 478, 481 (CCPA 1951).

10. This action is a final rejection and is intended to close the prosecution of this application. Applicant's reply under 37 CFR 1.113 to this action is limited either to an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or to an amendment complying with the requirements set forth below.

If applicant should desire to appeal any rejection made by the examiner, a Notice of Appeal must be filed within the period for reply identifying the rejected claim or claims appealed. The Notice of Appeal must be accompanied by the required appeal fee of $ 160.00.

If applicant should desire to file an amendment, entry of a proposed amendment after final rejection cannot be made as a matter of right unless it merely cancels claims or complies with a formal requirement made earlier. Amendments touching the merits of the application which otherwise might not be proper may be admitted upon a showing a good and sufficient reasons why they are necessary and why they were not presented earlier.

A reply under 37 CFR 1.113 to a final rejection must include the appeal from, or cancellation of, each rejected claim. The filing of an amendment after final rejection, whether or not it is entered, does not stop the running of the statutory period for reply to the final rejection unless the examiner holds the claims to be in condition for allowance. Accordingly, if a Notice of Appeal has not been filed properly within the period for reply, or any extension of this period obtained under either 37 CFR 1.136(a) or (b), the application will become abandoned.
